Executive Proclamation
Office of the Governor

Whereas, The state of South Dakota is located in an area of the United States significantly affected by devastating storms, tornadoes, lightning and floods; and,

Whereas, We are moving toward an annual weather season characterized by more violent weather systems in the area; and,

Whereas, Many residents of South Dakota serve as volunteer weather spotters and their dedication and real time weather information has contributed significantly to the timeliness of warnings and the protection of life and property for our citizens; and,

Whereas, It is necessary to alert South Dakota citizens to take action now to protect their lives and property; and,

Whereas, The state of South Dakota, Department of Public Safety, Office of Emergency Management and the National Weather Service, in cooperation with other federal, local and volunteer agencies, have joined together in sponsoring Severe Weather Preparedness Week:

Now, Therefore, I, M. Michael Rounds, Governor of the state of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim April 24-28, 2006, as in South Dakota, and I urge the cooperation of appropriate agencies and news media in a concerted effort to inform our citizens concerning proper actions to take when severe weather conditions prevail.

In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the state of South Dakota, in Pierre, the Capital City, this Tenth Day of April in the Year of Our Lord, Two Thousand and Six.

M. Michael Rounds, Governor

Attest:

Chris Nelson, Secretary of State
